SUBJECT.

Some proposals of Mr. A Mahadevasastri of Govt. Mysore Sanskrit College for a better internal management of the Institution

PREVIOUS REFERENCES. LATER REFERENCES.

Mysore
19th Dec. 18[illegible].

My dear Sir,

I herewith submit my proposals. I am afraid I give you trouble. But you are aware how difficult it is to pull on with Mr. Venkataramanaiah. If I were mere honorary Secretary, I should have resigned my connection with the College long ago. I do not like that my time should be wasted for nothing at all. As it is, I am unable to do anything. Kindly, therefore, Consult with ~~the~~ Mr. Sitaramaiah and issue necessary orders. I do not think that my proposal carries any thing revolutionary with it. You may make the arrangement proposed subject to any new restrictions or the Secretary's liberty. But I may, however, add that when a man's responsibility increases, he will be more cautious than before. When a man is trusted, he will try to deserve the trust, unless he is a perverted creature.

If no new arrangement is come to I will have to keep aloof from the internal management of the College, as my interference will be only evoke opposition from Mr Venkata Ramanarsi.

There are many details of which I have not informed you, but which will show Mr Venkataramanarsi in his true colours. I do not care for the man.

Yours obediently
Nilakanta Sastri

A Proposal for a better internal Management

I. Existing arrangement

The Principal is said to be responsible for the internal management, and the Secretary is entrusted with Correspondence.

Its defects

(1) The division of the College work between the Secretary and the present Principal is not what it ought to be. It is not well determined. The Principal obtains now and then orders from the President without reference to the Committee or the Secretary. Such orders often proving detrimental to the College-studies.

(2) The Principal's management of the affairs entrusted to him is not satisfactory. It has given room to complaints, most of them well-founded. His distribution of work among teachers, and his proposals for award of Scholarships to students are often objectionable ~~in many cases~~.

(3) The Principal does not consult the interests of the College students & their studies when purchasing books or otherwise spending money.

(4) The Principal's supervision of Sanskrit Studies is not efficient.

J. T. C.

(5) The Principal does everything contrary to the advice of the Secretary offered by the ~~order~~ latter in his individual capacity and tries to evade the orders of the Committee.

II Proposed arrangement

The President of the Committee or the Secretary acting in its behalf to be held responsible for the whole management of the College. All orders issued by the Secretary should be implicitly carried out by the Principal. All orders to the Principal should be issued ~~only~~ through the Secretary only.

Secretary's duties towards the Committee.

The Secretary will almost every college day superintend the Sanskrit studies. He will, thus, be in a position to ascertain at first hand what is needed for further progress and to see that his orders are properly carried out. The Secretary will now and then consult the members of the Committee at formal or informal meetings with a view to ascertain their views on important matters, or as to any proposals they have to make for further progress of the institution. It will be the duty of the Secretary to see and carry out that the President is ~~well~~ duly informed ~~not~~ of the progress of the internal affairs of the College, and of any order or orders issued by the Secretary on his own responsibility ~~or~~ those issued by him provisionally on urgent matters. The President may issue orders to the Secretary on his (President's) own responsibility or after consultation with the whole or a part of the Committee, such orders being implicitly obeyed by the Secretary. Only the Secretary may be allowed the right of explanation of his own procedure to the which the President's order, passed without consulting the Secretary, may clash.

III

Alternative proposal

Subject to the conditions laid down in the last proposal, the Secretary with the aid of a Clerk will undertake the whole management of the Sanskrit College. The Principal, thus relieved, will have time to attend to the teaching of the English Classes of which there are at least two at present

~~General~~ several standards,
